"Many cesspools are badly polluted," Harry Hoffman, Lower Makefield secretary, said the office "constantly receives calls describing the poor condition of sewage in the township." William Heefner, solicitor for the Falls board, said the projected cost of the installation of sewer lines would be $2,000,000 to be paid in a bond of 32 years duration. "No Target Date" Milton Berkes, Falls supervisor, explained to the public that the cost of the lines would be borne only by the people being serviced.

Japanese Beetles Bother Area Again

Completion of the natural pest-cycle has once again thrown lower Bucks County residents into a Japanese beetle battle. Frantic calls to the Courier and Times, the administration building of Levitt and Sons, Inc., and the office of the Bucks County Mosquito Control Commission have accomplished very little to disturb the pests who go on feasting merrily on prized local shrubbery.

Area Firemen to Get More Pay For Fighting Turnpike Blazes

Arms Freeze Irks North Korean Gen.

PANMUNJOM, Korea, (UP)—The Communist high command demanded today that the United Nations cancel its decision to build up armed strength in South Korea to match that of the Reds in the North.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Chung Kook Rok also declared "null and void" the Western Allies' decision to abrogate that part of the armistice agreement freezing the armed strength of both sides at what it was when the fighting ended.

The military armistice commission meeting then recessed for 30 minutes. The first session lasted 50 minutes.

Maj. Gen. Homer Litzberg of the U. S. Marines, senior Allied representative, told the Reds last week the U.N. Command was tossing out the arms freeze part of the agreement because the Communists had "flagrantly and willfully" violated it in building up their own armed strength.

The handsome North Korean general, his voice crisp, read a 15-minute statement protesting the U. N. action and denying the Allied charges. It was no military buildup, Chung said, since "we have only been engaged in peaceful construction in North Korea."

Allied intelligence said the Reds had beefed up the armed forces in North Korea by 100,000 men, built up a force of more than 700 jet bombers and fighters, imported hundreds of modern Soviet tanks and constructed a chain of 20 or more air bases above the 38th parallel.

The Allies made it clear they would match that arms buildup by bringing in swarms of jet fighters and bombers capable of carrying atomic bombs.

Chung said today this was part of "United States policy to prepare for an atomic war."

Falls To Hear Zone Request

A special meeting will be held by the Falls Township Supervisors tonight to hear an appeal for a change in zoning by Albert Kyselka of Fallsington.

The meeting is scheduled for 9 p.m. in the Municipal Building, at which time Mr. Kyselka will ask that an area lying south of the spot where Tyburn Road crosses the Delaware Canal be changed from "heavy industrial" to "heavy industrial metal processing."

The land, which is owned by Mr. Kyselka, and which he wishes to use for the operation of a metal processing plant is bounded on the west by the canal, north by Tyburn Road, east by land belonging to the Pennsylvania Railroad and south by land belonging to the Warner Company.

According to Robert Erwin, building inspector and zoning officer for Falls Township, the meeting is open to the public, but since there are "practically no residential areas involved, there should be no objections."

Beetles

(Continued From Page One) "ness," said a harrassed Mr. Walter today. "We are concerned with those pests that endanger health of the residents."

Will Fog Areas Mr. Walter said that his department will fog the residential areas on a routine schedule which should "dissuade the beetles for a few days."

"As soon as it's gone, they'll be back, though," he added.

When asked what can be done, he said, "I must have told 2000 people to go out and get insecticide... but it will kill the foliage if it is strong enough to kill the beetles."

He commented that the Commission could do it, but: "If people want to kill their shrubs, they're welcome to... we're not going to do it."

When asked about government programs to eliminate the pests, Mr. Walter said, "There isn't any, and I don't think there will be. The state would go broke if they paid bounties on them."

He explained that the beetles appear in four or five year cycles, and the best thing to do, since they can't be eliminated en masse with a spray, is to "murder them individually by picking them off and dropping them into a jar of turpentine or some equally noxious liquid."

Tullytown Crash Injures Hills Resident

A Fairless Hills man was injured in an accident in Tullytown today when a truck and car collided at the intersection of Main St. and River Road.

Tullytown Patrolman Steve Parto, investigating, said the man, George Verbich, 35, of 249 Wyandotte Road, was taken to Delaware Valley Hospital by the Levittown Emergency Squad after first aid treatment at the scene.

Patrolman Parto said Verbich suffered facial cuts and cuts on his arm.

The accident occurred, police said, when a truck driven by Albert D'Intino, 30, of 1402 South Chadwick St., Philadelphia, pulled out in front of a car driven by Harry L. Geist, 28, of 2207 Alacobra St., Bristol, about 8:30 a.m. today.

Police said the truck driver told them he was attempting to make a turn at the intersection and didn't see the car until he "cut him off."

It was explained that the sewer line would cost $7 per front foot, a $100 connection fee and a yearly rental of $50.

This would be lower than in Morrisville where the yearly rental is $57.

The panel indicated the Falls Authority would be dissolved and a joint Falls and Lower Makefield Authority would be created to finance the sewer installation.

Elder Hacker, Falls supervisor, explained that the cost of installing sewer lines into schools without the residential areas being tied in would be "too expensive to bear."

The open meeting was divided into a written question and answer session and then followed by oral questions from the floor.

When the meeting was adjourned several questions still remained unanswered and both boards indicated they would try and answer the remaining questions at their individual board meetings.

The panel consisted of Falls supervisors, Elder Hacker, Milton Berkes and Clifford Watson; Falls solicitor William Heffner and Falls Authority engineer, Howard Levan; Lower Makefield Supervisors, Russel Carter, Harry Hoffman and Claude Johnson; Lower Makefield solicitor, James Fitzcharles; and moderator George G. Gray, editor of the Bristol Courier and Levittown Times.

Senator Discloses He Knew of 'Spies'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman John J. L. McClellan of the Senate Rackets Committee disclosed today he has known for some time that Teamster Vice President James R. Hoffa claimed to have several "spies" in the Senate.

But McClellan refused to discuss the matter or to say whether his committee has uncovered any evidence of such spies.

"I won't make any public statement on it at present," the Arkansas Democrat told the United Press.

Neshaminy Appoints Paul Administrator

John Paul, retiring president of the Neshaminy Joint School Board, was named business administrator of the Neshaminy Joint School District, last night.

The Neshaminy board elected Paul to the job after a two-hour-long executive session in which the joint board interviewed four candidates including Paul.

The four applicants were selected from a list of 33 men who had applied for the job and who had been screened by a school board committee headed by John Weichelman.

Paul had been nominated for the job, last February. He withdrew himself voluntarily when several members of the joint board asked for more time to consider Paul and to see other candidates.

The appointment of Paul was approved unanimously by four of the school districts contributing to the Neshaminy jointure. The Middletown board abstained and the Langhorne board recorded a split vote.

Paul will receive an annual salary of $3,250. His appointment will become effective Dec. 1.

George F. Zarr is the acting business manager for the district.

The board authorized the purchase of two additional buses for the Neshaminy district at a cost of $6,700 each. The buses will give the district a fleet of 29 buses. They represent the third and fourth buses bought this spring. Last month, the board at-

Greta Anderson, also of Long Beach, Calif., led the women swimmers and finished third in 12 hours and 36 minutes. She also will receive $2,000.

Annual Fee Plus $50 For Each Call Set

Compensation for the volunteer fire companies called to the Pennsylvania Turnpike has been increased by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, following some nine months of negotiations with a joint committee of firemen.

Volunteer fire companies along the eastern section of the Pennsylvania Turnpike have been awarded increased compensation for their work in fighting fires along the toll road.

Since the opening of the toll road companies have been paid $50 to answer a fire alarm and $35 for every additional call, up to a maximum of $200 a year.

Under new rates negotiated, they will get a flat $200 annual fee plus $50 for each ensuing call.

The companies guarding the territory along the Turnpike's Delaware River Extension, from Valley Forge to Delaware Valley Interchange at Route 13, had formed a joint negotiating committee after individual attempts failed.

A co-chairman of the Volunteer Fire Company Turnpike Association was George Roeschen, of Trevoze Fire Co.

Robert Nichols, president of the Trevoze Fire Co., this morning, speaking for his company, praised the achievement of the joint committee.

"By combining our efforts we have made a decided improvement," Mr. Nichols said.

The committee went to Harrisburg several times to talk with members of the Turnpike Commission. They made known their problem to Governor George M. Leader and enlisted the aid of state legislators and other officials.

Police Charge Recklessness

A motorist was charged with reckless driving by Falls Township Police yesterday after applying his brakes on a wet highway, skidding and bashing the opposite side of the road.

Police said H. William Johnston, Philadelphia, was driving at an excessive rate of speed on the road near Bordentown Road when he went into the skid.

Officers Lyle Gass and Elliott Bainbridge said Johnston suffered a cut nose in the accident.

He was released after treatment at the dispensary of the Fairless Works of U.S. Steel.

In another accident, Tony Giampietro, 9237 Annapolis Road, Philadelphia, and David Peterson, Hopwell, N.J., collided on Route 1.

Richard Chalfoux, Falls Township police, said no one was injured and no violations were charged.

Zone Request Called Off

Mr. Sherman said that he had a letter of Thrimhart, today announced that a letter has been sent to the Falls Township Zoning Board asking that the request for a zoning change allowing Thrimhart to erect a kiddies' amusement park be held in abeyance.

Mr. Sherman said that he had visited with many people in the area as well as township officials personally and informed them of his intent to do this.

"These people are not only our customers," he said, "they are our neighbors as well. We don't want to do anything that they might think offensive."

(Continued From Page One) have told him that with four or five more years of testing they are confident they can produce a hydrogen bomb absolutely clean of radioactive fallout. He also said that scientists want to continue the tests necessary to get the most out of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes.

He made this statement in answer to a question about whether he believes the Russians could develop a clean H-bomb and would use it in case of war. He said he hopes so, but added his firm conviction that there must not be another war because, as he put it, it is inescapable that military might has become capable of complete destruction of humanity and civilization as it has developed on the North American continent.

Said there was some indication from London that the Russians are coming closer to the U.S. view on suspending nuclear weapons tests and production of weapons materials, coupled with certain kinds of sky inspection.

Asked that the administration yesterday accepted the newly completed footbridge between Quincy Hollow and Colbart Ridge, Levittown.

The action came at a special meeting of the board held at the bridge site after the supervisors inspected the new span.

The supervisors also named the bridge the Queen Anne's Creek Pedestrian Bridge.

The cost of the bridge, about $19,500, will be borne equally by the supervisors, the township school board, and the county commissioners.

It was built at the request of the school board who said it will enable children of Quincy Hollow to walk to the Walter Miller School, Colbart Ridge.

The bridge is built of pre-cast, prestressed concrete. The span was erected by the Concrete Construction Company, of Philadelphia.

While designed only for pedestrians small vehicles could cross the span in emergencies.

Lower Makefield Survey Asked On Sewer Proposals

A citizens committee in Lower Makefield Township may be formed to "completely explore" the possibilities of joining into the Falls Township sewer line.

T. Sidney Cadwallader, leading the group, said he is not opposed to sewers but desires "a complete survey before joining in to any particular sewer line."

May Join Falls

Lower Makefield is contemplating joining with Falls in a joint authority to build the line on a partnership basis.

In a letter to the Lower Makefield Supervisors, Mr. Cadwallader accused the supervisors of "hush-hush" secret meetings and "fast foot work" for the purpose of setting up a Lower Makefield Sewer Authority.

"If the Falls Sewer Authority is the only one available or the most reasonable system available, I believe we should go into it," he said.

"However, it seems inconceivable to me and others to whom I have talked, including a Pennsylvania Department of Health engineer, that it would be cheaper to pump sewage 12 miles to take the sewage to Morrisville by gravity three or four miles."

Mr. Cadwallader added that he commends the board of supervisors of Lower Makefield for not giving a blank check under heavy pressure for the sewer line.

He said the sewer system in Falls is so weak it has not been deeded over to its own authority.

Mr. Cadwallader said he asked the supervisors to act before it is too late and "keep Lower Makefield from being entrapped in a hasty sewer deal which we would regret and pay for over a long period of time."

School Employees To Vote On Retirement System

HARRISBURG (UP)—Pennsylvania's 2,440 school districts have indirectly approved the proposed integration of the state School Employees Retirement system with social security on which school employees will ballot in August.

Paul C. Moorman, executive director of the Bureau of Social Security for Public Employees, said today that "far less" than 40 percent of Pennsylvania's school boards have filed objections to the proposed merger of state and federal pension systems. If 40 percent had objected, the referendum, by law, could not have been held.

Gardens Boy Hit By Car

An 11-year-old Margo Gardens boy was struck by a car that crashed into a tree in an effort to avoid him.

The victim, Clarence Fowler, of 4617 Eugene Drive, Margo Gardens, who was riding his bike at the time, was treated at Lower Bucks County Hospital for lacerations and abrasions of the face, arms and head. Seven stitches were required to close a cut on his chin.

Bristol Township police reported that the boy was riding on Bath Road near Margo Gardens. He started to cross the road in front of a car driven by John McIlhenny, 26, of 4611 Brookside Ave.

McIlhenny swerved to the left to avoid the boy. His car ran up a small embankment, hit a tree, rolled over on its roof, slid around and ended up on its right side, according to police. Patrolman Patrick Dunlavey estimated the car is a total loss.

The boy was thrown to the ground when the car hit him. He was taken to the hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad. He was sent home after treatment and X-rays last night but will return for additional X-rays today.

Pennsbury Manor Charge Is Doubled

The admission charge at Pennsbury Manor, the restored home of William Penn in Falls township, will be increased from 25 to 50 cents July 1, the State Historical and Museum Commission announced today.

At the same time, admissions in two other historic shrines will be doubled to 50 cents and admission fees will be started in four others.

Commission Chairman Frank W. Melvin said the action was taken to compensate for reductions made in budget requests by the Republican-controlled 1957 Legislature.

Admissions will be doubled to 50 cents at Ephrata Cloister, Ephrata, Daniel Boone Homestead near Reading; Pennsbury Manor and the state Farm Museum of Landis Valley, Landisville.

At a 25 cent charge will be started at Fort Augusta, Sunbury; Conrad Weiser Park, Womelsdorf, and Cornwall Furnace, Cornwall. Fifty cents will be charged at Drake Well, Titusville.

Melvin said the admission fees will be channeled into a fund for improvements and maintenance of the shrines and the addition of other historical sites.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP)—Two Naval officers escaped uninjured last night when they were forced to ditch their plane in the ocean near here when the engine failed shortly after take-off from nearby Pomona Naval Air Station.

Hundreds of vacationers watched as the single-engine "Skyraider" fighter-bomber made what officials termed a "routine water landing" about a mile off Margate Beach.

Lt. (jg) Jack J. Parks, of Fayetteville, N. C., and Lt. (jg) Norman M. Saffi, of Barry, Vt., pilot and co-pilot respectively, were rescued from the sea by a private fishing vessel and returned to the air station aboard a Navy helicopter.

China Reds Admit Mass Executions

TOKYO (UP)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai said today one out of every six persons accused of "counter revolutionary" activities by the Peiping government had been executed.

Chou did not mention the number actually executed but he left no doubt it was one of the largest blood baths in history. Western sources have placed the number of executions in the millions.

Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung was quoted recently in Warsaw reports as admitting that more than 800,000 died.

Chou said the overwhelming majority of those sentenced to die received their sentences between "the time of liberation (1949) and 1952. He said "these sentences were absolutely necessary at the time."

Firemen May Conduct Block Party

Since the fire fund drive of the Yardley Fire Company fell short of its goal, the company is considering sponsoring a block party next month.

Bud Cadwalder, publicity chairman of the company, said the block party will probably take place late next month or early in August.

Site of the party is now undecided but Pennsylvania Ave. in Yardley is the leading area now, the chairman said.

Replete with carnival atmosphere, the street will be blocked off and games will be played with all profits going to the fire company.

The fire company drive several months ago fell short of the $18,000 goal. Pledges are still coming in and the company asks all who have pledged to please send checks in for the pledges.

The company ran into heavy expense this year with the purchase of a new $40,000 five-ton fire truck.

Mr. Cadwalder said the final decision for the block party will be made after a meeting of the company next week.

Rarick Blasts McDonald

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The leader of a dissident faction in the United Steelworkers said today his group "cannot conscientiously accept" the leadership of USW President David J. McDonald because of "unexplained irregularities" in his election last February.

Donald C. Rarick, McKeesport millhand who unsuccessfully ran against McDonald as candidate of the Dues Protest Committee, accused McDonald and his international officers of "shameful conduct" in an attempt to use the 1,200,000-member union for their "own selfish purposes."

The official count of the ballots in the USW election showed McDonald winning his second term with 404,000 votes to Rarick's 223,000.

Stassen Arms Proposal Set

LONDON (UP)—Harold E. Stassen will deliver today the American proposals for limiting the level of conventional armaments before the London disarmament conference, informed sources said.

The U.S. delegate resumes his "step-by-step" presentation of the American disarmament plan when the five-power U.N. subcommittee meets this afternoon.

As worked out among the Allies, the nations represented here would set definite quotas on major offensive weapons, such as tanks, artillery, planes, submarines and warships. All such conventional armaments in excess of the ceilings set would be mothballed under international supervision.

Yardley Center Project To Start

A $1,300 repair and improvement project on the Yardley Community Center is slated to begin almost immediately.

John Fitzpatrick, president of the center board, announced that $1,150 from the Yardley Street Fair proceeds and $200 from the Yardley-Makefield Lions Club, will be used in the repair operation.

At a board meeting this week, it was decided the repair work would begin almost immediately.

With summer blazing away, the board decided to repair its heating system for the fall and winter.

The heating system in use in the pine room will be expanded to the rest of the building with the pine room getting a brand new system.

Another new feature will be the installation of new outside doors on the building including panic doors.

Mr. Fitzpatrick explained that panic hardware is a type of door which opens from the inside in case panic presses extra weight against the doors.

The kitchen, which was repaired several weeks back, will get its cupboards painted and the cement floor repaired.

The window sills of the building are in danger of erosion, the board president said, and will be repaired with new masonry.

Mr. Fitzpatrick announced that the Yardley Community Center in cooperation with the Yardley-Makefield Recreation Board will plan for a fall recreation program.

No fall program has been in use before but one is planned this year. Committee members include Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Coleman and John Batt.

Canteen Held For Junior High Group

The first canteen of the summer program for junior high schoolers in the Yardley-Makefield area was held last night.

Junior high students attended the canteen at the Yardley Community Center from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Mrs. C. A. Baldwin, spokesman for the recreation board, said the high schoolers get their chance Thursday night at the center when their canteen convenes.

Starting time for the high schoolers is 8 p.m. and will run until 11 p.m.

The canteens will continue through the summer for the junior high schoolers on Tuesdays and for the high schoolers on Thursdays.

Probate Judge's Job To Be Softer

DETROIT (UP)—The job of Probate Judge Ernest C. Boehm should be a little softer in the future.

Boehm said he's finally going to get rid of the 20-year-old broken down green chair from which he dispenses justice each day.

"The chair," says Boehm, "is worn out on the bottom and so low the attorneys can't see me behind the bench. Besides, I get stiff whenever I sit in it for any length of time."

The Wayne County auditor listened to Boehm's story and authorized him a new chair. He should get a good one, too. He can spend up to $150 on it.

Jack Burgess, 770 North Lafayette Ave., Morrisville will succeed Mr. Rohrer as program chairman of the club.

More than 70 members of the club are expected to attend the meeting, the program chairman said.

Croydon Gives Star-Nosed Mole to Zoo

You just don't see star-nosed moles everyday. Especially in your own backyard, but that's what Diane Kentzler of Croydon did yesterday.

She and neighborhood pals were running around the backyard of her home, 1009 Emilie Ave., when the 13-year-old girl stopped short and yelled, "What's that thing?"

Her cousin, 14-year-old Edward Davis of Sharon, Pa., visiting her, quickly ran and caught the "thing" and called grown-ups in for a conference on what it was they had.

A neighborhood mother, Mrs. Ruth George of 1012 Ann St., admitted she didn't know, so called the Philadelphia Zoo and described it.

The Zoo official, she said, was happy to identify the tiny animal and asked if the zoo could have it. He was assured he could.

Nicknamed "Briar" because of the odd star-shaped nose used for digging, the mole found many new friends and admirers yesterday. Some eight or nine proud children gathered around "Briar's" box and showed him off to all comers.

"Briar" was expected to be taken to his new home at the zoo today.
